OUR MISSION

TO SHARE THE LOVE OF CHRIST WITH ALL PEOPLE THROUGH PRAYER, WORSHIP AND BIBLE STUDY;
BY CARING FOR THOSE AMONG US AND BY SERVING
THE WIDER COMMUNITY

ABOUT EPIPHANY

Welcome to Church of the Epiphany. Located in Newton, NC, we have been a part of the Episcopal presence in Catawba County for over 50 years.

Epiphany is small in number, and big in heart. We have 56 families and more than 100 active members. Our community is very open and welcoming.

One of our greatest pleasures is getting to know the new people who visit us and helping them to know us. We know that not everyone has grown up Episcopalian, so we are always willing to help acquaint newcomers with our traditions.

Our fellowship gatherings are comfortable and fun! They feel like "the family" has gathered. When someone is not at church, we notice.

Epiphany people are mindful of keeping track of each other and how everyone is getting along in life.

All ages and stages of life make up our parish: younger and older, married and single, small families, large families, and families of one. If you wish to find a friend at church, Epiphany can guarantee that you will.

Apartment 2 Completed and Blessed!

Recently Megan turned 21 and also transitioned to one of Safe Harbor's apartments - her first home. Megan has been in this program for over eight months, and is in the process of transformation and restoration.

There to celebrate with her were folks from the three Episcopal parishes that joined together to renovate this apartment. They have worked tirelessly, investing time, money, skill, and love, into one of the most challenging apartments in the complex. No one would recognize this beautiful living space from what it used to be. It was dark, filthy, and falling apart. Now it is filled with light, it is clean, and up-fitted with new appointments and furnishings throughout!

Walking the grounds and from room to room, so many beautiful prayers and so many words of encouragement were heard. Once again, it served as a reminder of what good things can happen when people work together, and when even one person decides to make a difference!

News & Events

ECW News

The Foothills ECW will hold its Deanery meeting on Thursday, September 15th at St. Mary's, Morganton at 10:00 a.m.

Will the president please bring your annual report to read to the group? This covers from October, 2010 until October 2011. Also we need a list of any woman who has died in this time period. This is used for the roll of remembrance at the annual Diocesan ECW meeting.

The Annual Diocesan ECW meeting will be held on Thursday, October 20th at St. John's in Asheville. Bishop Taylor will be there to lead the worship service.

Hope you can come to both meetings for fellowship and worship with other ladies from our Diocese.

If you have questions, please email rjsummerfield@bellsouth.net or call 828-437-1592.

Look forward to seeing all of you.

Lectors, Lay Readers, and Chalice Bearers

Lector, Lay Reader and Chalice Bearer Training will be held on Sunday, September 11th following the service, led by David Brandon and Zoe Robertson. All new, prospective, and established participants in these programs should attend. If you cannot attend, please contact Zoe or David to reschedule.

Prayer Request

Beverly Dorney's grandson, Tyler McMorrow, a 16-year-old high school student, is a wonderful boy. He is a member of a Methodist Church in Davidson, and is asking for prayer for him and his team who are going on a mission trip to Guatemala. This is his second trip with the group, and instead of asking for money, he is asking for prayer.

The first year the group went, they served several villages, providing limited medical help, construction, and Vacation Bible School for the kids. Since then, they have sent a shipping container containing a tractor, construction equipment and tools, an ATV, and water purification equipment, which they will use on this trip and leave for the people to continue to use.

Bev has every reason to be proud of this boy whose only request is for prayer. Let's help him out by praying daily for Tyler and his team, and for the people that they will be helping in Guatemala.

Daughters of the King

DOK Fall Training -- If you are interested in becoming a member of Daughters of the King at Epiphany, please let Ann Lowery know. Several have indicated that they are interested, and we need to know if you are among that group, so we can gather the materials that you will need for the training, which will start sometime this fall. We will probably have a couple of Saturday morning sessions and several Sunday after-church sessions so the training won't take too long. Hope to hear from you soon if you are interested.

Church Office Shower

In order to supplement the office supplies and have a little fun in the process, the Vestry has decided to have an Office Shower. There was a misunderstanding with the copier company about color copies, so we are over budget in the area of office expenses (we were unknowingly being charged for every color copy that was made). We are cutting back expenses by limiting our use of color printing from now on, but we still need other supplies to finish out the year. The Vestry will set the date for the shower at its August meeting, and we will have a party with food and games to unveil all your gifts to the office. Stacey will be providing a list of items that are needed, and it will be posted as well as included as a bulletin insert. If you want to take advantage of back-to-school sales, you can go ahead and pick up general office items whenever you are shopping. More to come!

Bishop's Reflection

In my youth I played Little League Baseball. My first year I began by playing third base largely because I could actually throw the ball across the diamond. After a few weeks, the coach told me I was going to pitch the next game. I had only one technique: to throw the ball as hard as I could. After four innings I thought my arm was going to fall off. I had no idea of the proper way to change pitchers; I didn't even know there were relief pitchers. I just knew I was done. So in the middle of the fifth inning, with a count on the batter, I walked off the baseball diamond, handed the coach the ball and said, "I need to rest."

It took me ten seconds to discover this wasn't okay. The coach stared at me as if I had confessed a heinous crime. Needless to say, my pitching career was over. I didn't know it at the time, but now I realize this was an early indication that our society is not comfortable with Sabbath. We as a culture do not value rest, nor do we teach one another how to stop. We think we should pitch until our arms drop off.

Wayne Muller in his book, Sabbath, writes, "Sabbath dissolves the artificial urgency of our days, because it liberates us from the need to be finished." The truth is, we are never done. There is always something else on the list. There is always one more experience or one more good deed or one more achievement. The Sabbath allows us to live with the incomplete and, thereby, to acknowledge that we are not the only agents in the universe, nor are we in control. Even though there is still much to do, we give our list over to God and rest.

There is a reason Sabbath is a commandment. If God didn't order us to stop, we wouldn't. When we truly step out of the stream of our constant busyness, often we feel disoriented. We ask ourselves, "If I am not my activities, then who am I?" God commands us to stop our frenetic activity not only so we can be renewed but also so we can remember that God can actually turn the world without us. In the end, it's a matter of remembering who is in control and letting go.

I am blessed with being able to take a long Sabbath this summer. I will be on sabbatical from mid-June until Labor Day. I realize how exceptional this is in the business world and how fortunate I am, and I am truly grateful. My hope is not just to come back renewed, but to so immerse myself in a different way of being, that I can change my patterns when I return to work. For the Sabbath is meant to be a time during each year, a time during each week, and a time during each day. The goal is to return to a holy pattern of engaging and letting go.

Through the generosity of The Louisville Foundation, I will be able to engage in a number of activities. My grant proposal to the Foundation is entitled "Fire and Glue."

I got this idea from the keynote address of Ron Rolheiser at the M & M Conference a few years ago. He said the Holy Spirit gives us two gifts. First she gives us the gift of fire: that holy longing which burns in our souls and moves us closer to the source of everything. It's the energy of the Holy Spirit when we are most creative. The second gift is glue to give cohesion to the energy the Holy Spirit brings. This is the need for ordering and structuring. Without fire, we become stuck. Without glue, we burn out.

I will focus on both these qualities during the first section of the sabbatical. In the month of June I am attending a creative writing seminar at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn. I confess the draw for me is that two of my favorite writers, Roxana Robinson and Amy Bloom, are members of the faculty and that no one will know or care that I am a bishop. Writing has always been a joy for me. I lose myself in the creative process. Thus, this is intended to be the fire.

In July I will be attending a course entitled, "Strategic Perspectives for Executives of Nonprofits," sponsored by the Harvard Business School. This is the glue. I hope to improve my abilities to be the "overseer" of our diocese and better lead us through the complexities of these times.

The true Sabbath comes in August when we will go to the Eastern Shore of the Chesapeake Bay. My primary agenda is to read and write and walk and rest. We have found a house without television but with wrap around screened porches that overlook the marsh. My intention is to get free of my addiction to stimulation and staying busy and to remember who I am apart from my role and position.

The ordination service for a new bishop calls for the new bishop to be "a wholesome example for the entire flock of Christ." I realize how fortunate I am to be free of my duties and responsibilities for this time. My hope is to model what we all need to be human: a holy rhythm of work and play; of responsibility and letting go; of exertion and rest. We need the Sabbath not just to be God's people; we need the Sabbath to be human.

So happy Sabbath. May you take time in every day and week and year to put down your list and concerns and play in the fields of the Lord. May you let go of your worries and enjoy the sheer gift of being alive. May you rest and allow the Holy Spirit to renew you.

+G. Porter Taylor

The Corner Table Spaghetti Luncheon

Epiphany will be serving our famous spaghetti and meatballs at The Corner Table on Wednesday, September 21st. As usual, volunteers are needed, and we would love to see some new faces! The hours are from 10:00 AM until 1:30 PM (sometimes we are done earlier), and lunch is provided. For more information, and to volunteer, contact Janice McPherson.

Just for Fun

Here's a one-question IQ Test to help you decide how you should spend the rest of your day.

There is a mute who wants to buy a toothbrush.

By imitating the action of brushing one's teeth, he successfully expresses himself to the shopkeeper and the purchase is done.

Now, if there is a blind man who wishes to buy a pair of sunglasses, how should he express himself?

(Answer below)

~Thanks to Ann Lowery

He opens his mouth and says,
"I would like to buy a pair of Sunglasses."

Just for Fun

Billy Graham was returning to Charlotte after a speaking engagement and when his plane arrived there was a limousine there to transport him to his home. As he prepared to get into the limo, he stopped and spoke to the driver. 'You know,' he said, 'I am 87 years old and I have never driven a limousine. Would you mind if I drove it for a while?' The driver said, 'No problem. Have at it.'

Billy got into the driver's seat and they headed off down the highway. A short distance away sat a rookie State Trooper operating his first speed trap.

The long black limo went by him doing 70 in a 55 mph zone. The trooper pulled out and easily caught the limo. And he got out of his patrol car to begin the procedure. The young trooper walked up to the driver's door and when the glass was rolled down, he was surprised to see who was driving.

He immediately excused himself and went back to his car And called his supervisor.

He told the supervisor, 'I know we are supposed to enforce the law. But I also know that important people are given certain courtesies. I need to know what I should do because I have stopped a very important person.'

The supervisor asked, 'Is it the governor?'

The young trooper said, 'No, he's more important than that.'

The supervisor said, 'Oh, so it's the president.'

The young trooper said, 'No, he's even more important than that.'

The supervisor finally asked, 'Well then, who is it?'

The young trooper said: 'I think it's Jesus, Because he's got Billy Graham for a chauffeur!'

Representatives of the three Episcopal parishes in Catawba County — Ascension, Hickory; Epiphany, Newton; and St. Alban's, Hickory — presented a diocesan Human Hurt and Hope Fund check for $15,000 in seed money to help fund the Resource Warehouse & Gallery in Hickory.

The gallery, which opened June 1, is operated under the umbrella of Safe Harbor Rescue Mission Inc. and is engaged in the business of collecting industrial and residential discards for creative reuse.

Deacons at the three Catawba parishes (Diane Livingston from St. Alban's, Pat Jones from Ascension and Anita Ware from Epiphany) formed the Catawba Episcopal Outreach Committee earlier this year. They spent time getting to know each other and in discerning their common ministry; this led to their partnering with Safe Harbor that provides safety, shelter and positive programming for homeless women and children in Catawba County. The new warehouse and gallery is the newest focus of the ministry, but members of the three parishes have worked with other local volunteers to completely renovate a group of donated apartments.
